

Harvest Sale at Jacobs & Levy

Hundreds of Suits—Hundreds of O'coats

Go at One-Half (50%) Off

The sale will continue until Tuesday, March 3d. It's your time to smile when you read the "clear the counters" offerings below. Now chuckle ahead.

For Men

$15.00 Suits or O'coats.....$ 7.50
$20.00 Suits or O'coats.....$10.00
$30.00 Suits or O'coats.....$15.00
$20.00 Suits or O'coats.....$20.00

Stouts, leans and regular sizes.

For Children

$10.00 Suits or O'coats.....$5.00
$ 8.00 Suits or O'coats.....$4.00
$ 5.00 Suits or O'coats.....$2.50
$ 3.00 Suits or O'coats.....$1.50

Ages 2 1/2 to 16.

Read how the other departments contribute to this sale:

$3.00 Hats.....$1.00 $1.50 Shirts.....75c
$5.00 Trousers.....$2.95 75c Hosiery.....35c

Take our word for it—this is the best opportunity we've ever afforded for saving a big, fat slice of what the merchandise is really worth.

WORLD-GIRDLERS PASS IN REVIEW

(Continued from Page One, Column 3)

Gleeships Wisconsin and New Jersey, with Red Cross Corps.

Four companies representing the battleships Illinois.

Four companies representing the battleships Kentucky and Ohio.

Band from the battleship Missouri.

Four companies representing the battleships Kearsarge and Missouri.

with Red Cross Corps.

Franklin Band and Bugle Corps.

Eight companies from the training ship Franklin.

Fourth Regiment Band.

Companies of the Norfolk Light Artillery, 1st and 2nd Batteries, of Portsmouth, Major Keeling commanding.

Company of the Virginia Volunteer Coast Artillery.

Four Virginia volunteer companies from the Fourth Regiment, and forming the local battalion, under command of Colonel Salomonaki. Colonel Salomonaki headed this division with his staff.

All Cheers for Sailors.

The significant fact that the local soldiers and artillerymen, while making an excellent showing, were allowed to pass in silence, while ovation after ovation was accorded the sailors.

They were dressed in blue, with yellow leggings and navy white soft caps, armed with guns, and carrying sabres and canteens. It was a beautiful sight.

Each division was headed by the color-bearers of the ship, carrying "Old Glory," the blue flag, with anchor centre of each ship, and signal flags bearing the names of the respective ships. By this each of the companies were recognized, and that each State was represented in the thousands of spectators was shown by the greetings accorded. Even far-away Nebraska found an occasional home spectator to vent his enthusiasm.

Virginia, of course, received the real ovation of the day. Cries of Virginia, followed by shouts of acclaim, began the moment the flag could be recognized.

POPULAR MUSIC.

9c 9c

RAINBOW, HELEN, AND OTHERS.

Lee Fergusson Piano Co.

119 EAST BROAD STREET.

NOT TO COMPETE BUT TO EXCEL.

WALKER'S ORIGINAL TRADE MARK

SMOKING TOBACCO

DURHAM

THE KNEEDLER CO. DURHAM, N.C.

STANDARD OF QUALITY.

ASK FOR WALKER'S DURHAM

EVERYWHERE.

HANCOCK CIGAR CO.,

Distributors, Richmond, Va.

GOV. PATTERSON IS ON THE STAND

(Continued from Page One, Column 3)

The Governor told how, with his private secretary, Mr. Sprague, he hunted for Colonel Cooper and finally found him at the Maxwell house. The state began to object and the court ordered the jury to retire.

Tells of Conversation.

The Governor was then told to tell all that happened.

"I found Colonel Cooper in the writing room writing a letter or dictating one. He told me to wait a moment. I sent for James Bradford and Robin. They arrived in a few minutes. Then I learned that the letter that he had been dictating was to Mr. Carmack. I urged him strongly not to send it, so did Mr. Bradford and Robin agreed with me. Colonel Cooper was very angry. He said he was a private citizen and that the Senator had no right to use his name that he felt as though a man was splitting in his face each morning.

I told him that if he sent that letter it might provoke an encounter—a personal encounter—which, I told him, must be avoided at all costs. The letter was turned over to Mr. Bradford, who promised to adjust the difficulty, and asked if Colonel Cooper would let him keep the letter and meet him at Bradford's office at 3 P. M. I then saw Mrs. Williams and asked if she was to take lunch with the Colonel, and she said yes.

"I told her it would be advisable for her to remain near me until 3 P. M. I did so, because I knew she was a good friend of his and the Colonel was very angry.

"I left then and Robin if I were he I would remain near Colonel Cooper that day."

"Did you anticipate any trouble?"

"No, sir, for the letter the Colonel wrote was unsigned and in Mr. Bradford's possession. I was signing some bonds when Mr. Bradford, pined and said he had seen the letter. They were speaking of, but that General Tully Brown and he had discussed the matter and decided there was no danger of trouble. I expressed my satisfaction. A few minutes later I phoned Bradford's office and asked Colonel Cooper to come to the mansion within thirty minutes."

"Did you want to see him about this trouble?"

"No, sir, Colonel Cooper was one of my closest advisers. I was going away that night and wished to see him before I left."

Heard of Killing.

The Governor said he walked out of the mansion with one of his staff and met former Governor Cox. They chatted a while and the Governor re-entered the mansion. After a little while the porter came in and told of the killing.

"You say you spoke to Governor Cox. Had Colonel Cooper brought the reconciliation about?"

"No, sir. A Chattanooga paper had an interview with Governor Cox after the primaries in which Cox said he had been fairly nominated and was entitled to the support of all Democrats. I wrote to Cox and told him that it was no more than fair, but that it was so much more friendly in tone than he had shown in the past. I wanted to express my appreciation. A matter of fact we had never been personal enemies. We always spoke when we were together. Whenever occasion demanded it we shook hands."

What was Robin's manner in these interviews?"

"He was very anxious to effect a personal settlement, and when he left me in the arcade he thanked me for what I had done and his eyes filled with tears."

Part Is Admitted.

Judge Hart decided that the results of these conferences were admitted, but not the language of them. Attorney for both sides agreed.

The report was recalled and the Governor repeated those portions of his previous testimony which the court had declared admissible. The restriction of the court made the witness's testimony complete.

General Garner then said:

"The Governor may stand aside. Later on he should be asked to do so, we will cross-examine the Governor."

Judge Hart then adjourned court until Monday at 9 A. M.

CASTRO IS INNOCENT

Declares He Could Not Have Conspired to Murder Gomez.

DRESDEN, February 28.—Cipriano Castro, late President of Venezuela, today authorized the publication of a declaration of his innocence of the charge that he had conspired to bring about the assassination of Juan Vicente Gomez, the present President of the republic.

"The only charge that has been raised against me," Senator Castro says in a signed statement, "is that I tried to instigate the murder of Gomez. It is incredible that after having shown my interest in him in so many ways I should try to cause him to be murdered."

GOES TO PENITENTIARY

Former State Treasurer of Kentucky Sentenced for Forgery.

JACKSON, Ky., February 27.—Walter E. Day, former State Treasurer of Kentucky, was sentenced today to one year in the penitentiary here on a charge of forging the name of his uncle, Floyd Day, to a note for $4,000. Day will appeal.

Lumber Yards Burn.

SAVANNAH, Ga., February 27.—The Vale Royal Mills and 200,000 feet of lumber, valued at $75,000, were destroyed by fire early today. The origin of the blaze is unknown. But little of the loss was covered by insurance. The mill and lumber yards were on the bank of the Savannah River and the fire was spectacular.

Fire in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 27.—The large seven-story building at 229 Arch street, occupied by the Paxson & Company, was under construction and several other firms, was badly damaged by fire early today, entailing a loss estimated at $100,000. Two firemen were slightly injured.

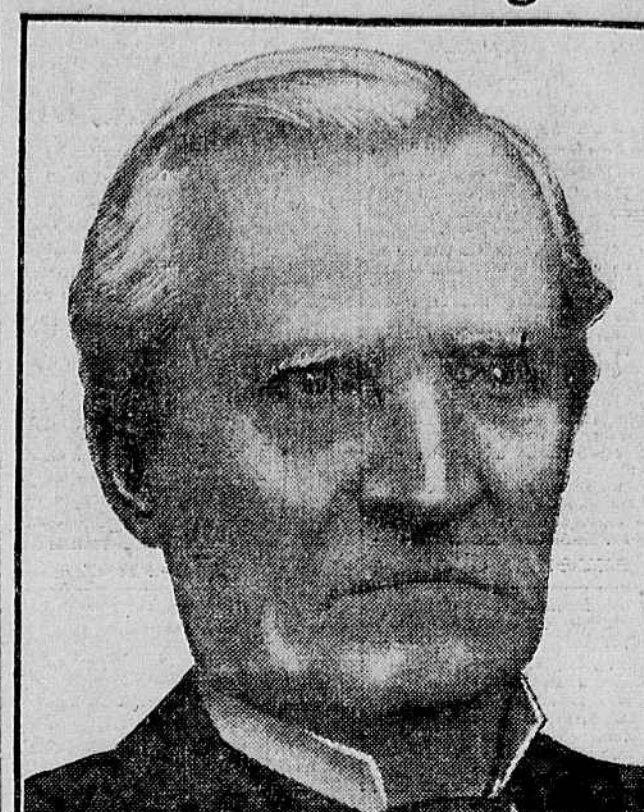

No More "At Night."

PORT WORTH, TEXAS, February 27.—Following the announcement that President-Elect Taft would be elected a member "at night" of the National Farmers' Union, Secretary Smith, of the State Organization here, today denounced the plan and stated that President Barrett is forbidden by the laws of the association to permit such a procedure.

Sent to Conference.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—All senate amendments to the agricultural appropriation bill were disagreed to by the House today and the bill sent to conference. Messrs. Scott (Kansas), Hagen (Iowa), and Lamb (Virginia), were appointed house conferees.

Invigorating and Healing King of Restoratives

MR. SILAS ROCKWELL, 92 YEARS OLD.

So Says Mr. Silas Rockwell, Who is 92 Years Old, and for Many Years Was One of Cincinnati's Foremost Business Men. Mr. Rockwell's Grandfather Was a Soldier With Washington in the Revolution and Was a Great Lover and Admirer of Washington.

"It is with pleasure I add my testimony to the very many received by you of the efficacy of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I regard it as a marvelous panacea, invigorating and healing. I shall take much pleasure in recommending it to my friends."

"I am ninety-two years old, and subject to many infirmities common to men of mature years, while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been a great relief in many ways. I can truly say it is the King of Restoratives."—Silas Rockwell, 314 Garrard Ave., Covington, Ky.

Thousands of unsolicited letters of gratitude like this of Mr. Rockwell are received from grateful patients who are anxious to extol the merits of this great life-saver and renewer of youth—Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Every testimonial is guaranteed genuine, and is published in good faith with full consent.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolute cure and preventive of consumption, pneumonia, grip, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low fevers and all wasting, weakened, diseased conditions.

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It aids digestion, quickens circulation and builds new tissue. It is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey, and is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for a free illustrated medical booklet and free advice.

GOT GIRL OUT OF CELL TO HAVE HER AT BAPTIZING

Fell From Grace After Living Uprightly for a Time, Friend Interceding at the Eleventh Hour After Fight in Butchertown.

"Baptized to be Baptized" is the title of the true history of Lena Seton, a belle of Butchertown and recent religious enthusiast of that benighted section of the city.

Lena has seen but sixteen summers, but they have been long and full of trouble, and Lena's mind, until the advent of the revival, was as a field that is sown with tares. But somewhere in that darkened soul there was a homesome spot of virtue, whose feeble rays were never quite dimmed by the stormy scenes and waywardness so characteristic of the Butchertown flats.

Three weeks ago it flared forth through the midnight darkness, and her soul was as a gleaming light that is not hid under a bushel in the paths of sin—and Butchertown was its own particular brand of sin, the like of which is equaled nowhere else in Richmond. So Lena became converted, and her psalm singing was a joy unto the faithful and a plea to the unrighteous to turn from their wicked ways.

And while Lena sang there was a noticeable decrease in Butchertown iniquity, for Lena has a strong following. But the path of righteousness is there was plenty of applause, with whirlwind of hisses when the villain felt like showing its hatred against parts.

Daily Court Record.

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals reconvened yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, with Circuit Judges Goff and Vritchard and District Judges Boyd and Dayton in attendance.

Court made and entered an order dismissing the following case for failure to print the record as required by Rule 23:

No. 870.—Edward Hopkins, plaintiff in error, vs. Bluefield Telephone Company, defendant in error. In error to the Circuit Court of Bluefield, W. Va. Cause dismissed for failure to print the record as required by Rule 23.

Court then went into conference as to the cases heretofore argued and submitted.

Court adjourned until Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

There will be no cases in the call for Monday.

Salvation Army Services.

Captain Fowler, of the Salvation Army, has arranged for the following special services to-day, which will be followed by new choruses and solos of an attractive nature: 10:30 A. M., holiness meeting; 3:30 P. M., Sunday-school; 8:00 P. M., regular Salvation Army meeting.

To Lay Y. M. C. A. Corner-Stone.

The corner-stone of the new Y. M. C. A. building will be laid on Saturday afternoon, March 6. The stone will be placed by Dove Lodge, No. 51, A. F. and A. M., assisted by members of other lodges. St. Andrew's Commandery, No. 12, Knights Templars, will act as the escort.

Hofheimer's

Between Season Sale!

HIGH AND LOW CUTS

50c

A $1 Week

$1.50

Ladies' Felt Slippers, Men's Leather and Felt Slippers, Children's Shoes.

Enough to supply a full week's selling; but come early and get the pick. Values up to $3.00, in high and low cuts. A general mixture of Fine Shoes and Oxfords at a sacrifice, just for a special sale. Look 'em over.

$2.00

TWO DOLLARS

$2.00

Your choice of a lot of Really Fine Shoes, suitable for any wear. Your choice of a lot of Really Fine Oxfords, suitable for the future. The price is from $1.00 to $2.00 under the regular prices. Men and women wearers of the very best will find it to their interest to visit this sale.

Small lots specially priced at ONE-HALF to close quickly. It may pay you to look 'em over. N. B.—Oxford sale on second floor. Shoes displayed on main floor.

Hofheimer's (311 E. Broad) Between Season Sale

FREE PILE CURE

Sent to Demonstrate the Merits of Pyramid Pile Cure.

What it Has Done for Others It Can Do for You.

We have testimonials by the hundreds showing how you can be cured by Pyramid Pile Cure.

If you could read these unsolicited letters you would have no doubt as to the nearest drug store and buy a box of Pyramid Pile Cure at once, price fifty cents.

We do not ask you to do this. Send us your name and address, and we will send you a trial package by mail free.

We know what the trial package will do. In many cases it has cured piles without further treatment. If it proves its value, order more from your druggist, at 50c a box. This is fair, is it not? Simply fill out free coupon below and mail to-day.

FREE PACKAGE COUPON.

Fill out the blank lines below with your name and address, cut out coupon and mail to the PYRAMID DRUG COMPANY, 120 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich. A trial package of the great Pyramid Pile Cure will then be sent you at once by mail, FREE, in plain wrapper.

Name

Street

City and State

Admirals of World-Circling Fleet Are His Guests.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 27.—The President to-day entertained Rear Admirals Sperry and Vainwright, of the Atlantic fleet, at luncheon at the White House.

The flag officers and commanding officers of the battleships have been invited to a banquet to be given in their honor to-morrow evening at the Metropolitan Club in this city.

Postmaster-General Meyer, who is slated to become the next Secretary of the Navy, called and remained with the President and Rear Admiral Sperry and Vainwright for half an hour after luncheon. He declared they had not discussed the question of the future commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet.

Wishes to Retire.

Rear Admiral Sperry to-night declared that while he had not yet made a formal request to be relieved of the command of the battleship fleet, it was his purpose to do so after another consultation with Secretary Newberry.

The admiral was reticent about his reason for wanting to be detached from the big fleet, but it is understood that his request will be prompted by the fact that his retirement in September will occur only a short time after the completion of the fleet.

At the same time the enlisted men were being royally entertained at the Naval Y. M. C. A. The guests, under a royal repast spread and absolutely free to the participants in the parade.

At 3:30 o'clock officers and men departed in steamers from the fleet and Fort Monroe, where, being relieved of their military duties, steamers were at their disposal for the return trip to Norfolk. To-night the officers were the guests of a number of citizens at private social functions in the various hotels of the city.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened and the columns had gotten room for a swinging march, thirty-eight minutes was required for the line to cross Granby Street en route to Ghent.

An interesting and unusual sight of the day was the column of blue and gray veterans, who were accorded seats of honor on the reviewing stands to witness the spectacle. The old veterans who were the blue were from the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, while the Confederate veterans were from Pickett-Buchanan Camp. At the close of the review they fraternized in a comradeship that was noteworthy.

Following the review, and while awaiting the return of the officers actively engaged in the parade, those on the reviewing stand were entertained at the Commercial Club.

Witnessed by 100,000 People.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened and the columns had gotten room for a swinging march, thirty-eight minutes was required for the line to cross Granby Street en route to Ghent.

An interesting and unusual sight of the day was the column of blue and gray veterans, who were accorded seats of honor on the reviewing stands to witness the spectacle. The old veterans who were the blue were from the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, while the Confederate veterans were from Pickett-Buchanan Camp. At the close of the review they fraternized in a comradeship that was noteworthy.

Following the review, and while awaiting the return of the officers actively engaged in the parade, those on the reviewing stand were entertained at the Commercial Club.

Witnessed by 100,000 People.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened and the columns had gotten room for a swinging march, thirty-eight minutes was required for the line to cross Granby Street en route to Ghent.

An interesting and unusual sight of the day was the column of blue and gray veterans, who were accorded seats of honor on the reviewing stands to witness the spectacle. The old veterans who were the blue were from the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, while the Confederate veterans were from Pickett-Buchanan Camp. At the close of the review they fraternized in a comradeship that was noteworthy.

Following the review, and while awaiting the return of the officers actively engaged in the parade, those on the reviewing stand were entertained at the Commercial Club.

Witnessed by 100,000 People.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened and the columns had gotten room for a swinging march, thirty-eight minutes was required for the line to cross Granby Street en route to Ghent.

An interesting and unusual sight of the day was the column of blue and gray veterans, who were accorded seats of honor on the reviewing stands to witness the spectacle. The old veterans who were the blue were from the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, while the Confederate veterans were from Pickett-Buchanan Camp. At the close of the review they fraternized in a comradeship that was noteworthy.

Following the review, and while awaiting the return of the officers actively engaged in the parade, those on the reviewing stand were entertained at the Commercial Club.

Witnessed by 100,000 People.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened and the columns had gotten room for a swinging march, thirty-eight minutes was required for the line to cross Granby Street en route to Ghent.

An interesting and unusual sight of the day was the column of blue and gray veterans, who were accorded seats of honor on the reviewing stands to witness the spectacle. The old veterans who were the blue were from the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, while the Confederate veterans were from Pickett-Buchanan Camp. At the close of the review they fraternized in a comradeship that was noteworthy.

Following the review, and while awaiting the return of the officers actively engaged in the parade, those on the reviewing stand were entertained at the Commercial Club.

Witnessed by 100,000 People.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened and the columns had gotten room for a swinging march, thirty-eight minutes was required for the line to cross Granby Street en route to Ghent.

An interesting and unusual sight of the day was the column of blue and gray veterans, who were accorded seats of honor on the reviewing stands to witness the spectacle. The old veterans who were the blue were from the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, while the Confederate veterans were from Pickett-Buchanan Camp. At the close of the review they fraternized in a comradeship that was noteworthy.

Following the review, and while awaiting the return of the officers actively engaged in the parade, those on the reviewing stand were entertained at the Commercial Club.

Witnessed by 100,000 People.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened and the columns had gotten room for a swinging march, thirty-eight minutes was required for the line to cross Granby Street en route to Ghent.

An interesting and unusual sight of the day was the column of blue and gray veterans, who were accorded seats of honor on the reviewing stands to witness the spectacle. The old veterans who were the blue were from the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, while the Confederate veterans were from Pickett-Buchanan Camp. At the close of the review they fraternized in a comradeship that was noteworthy.

Following the review, and while awaiting the return of the officers actively engaged in the parade, those on the reviewing stand were entertained at the Commercial Club.

Witnessed by 100,000 People.

It is conservatively estimated that over 100,000 witnessed the parade. Although the line of march was four miles in length, eight-feet space was at a premium long before the line began to move. The parade was over two miles in length, and by actual timing it required forty-one minutes for the various commands to pass the reviewing stand. Later, on Freemason Street, when the pace had been quickened